NOBLE LIBRARIES MAY NOW BORROW OVERDRIVE BOOKS FROM OTHER NETWORKS

Just go to noble.overdrive.com and select the other Library consortiums that may have books you wish to read. The example below shows the Noble catalog on top and the Minuteman overdrive catalog in the second example. These catalogs provide so many more titles for NOBLE patrons to access.

*Author Louise Miller returns to Stoneham Library
October 29th at 7PM*

We are so pleased to have author Louise Miller back for another book signing and reading. Louise was here last year for a reading of her debut novel The City Baker's Guide to Country Living. Louise is a pastry chef at the Boston Union Club. Her first novel was picked as a Reader's Guide choice and The Late Bloomers' Club has been chosen as a great beach read.

Where Community Begins

Come join us on the Stoneham Common for a fun day and learn about the Stoneham Friends of the Library! The friends support the library through programs for adults and children, museum passes, and special purchases that help the library. Please come check us out on September 15th.

We want to know What's Your Ten

Let us know what your favorite books are!!! We will have slips to fill out at the circulation desk. Please join in the fun.

Inspired by the Great American Read program on PBS, we want to know...

#WhatsYourTen?

Starting on July 1st, fill out and submit a slip to tell us what your favorite ten books are or post your choices on our Facebook page!

If you can only think of a few titles, that's ok!

These can be books you read recently or years ago!

We will be using what you tell us to design future programs and events, so your input is appreciate!

Look for a final tally at the end of the summer and see what book is Stoneham's favorite!

The Junior Library's 2018 Summer Program has officially come to a close.

Congratulations to the over 550 amazing program participants. 6,482 items were borrowed from the Junior Library in July.

No Summer Slide in Stoneham!
